Week 2, Term 2

Message from the Principal

I extend a warm welcome to our new boys, families and staff joining The Scots College this term. Welcome back to our continuing boys, staff and families. I trust you enjoyed a very happy and blessed Easter. I encourage you to read the stories about our boys’ activities and achievements over first term and the break. During the vacation, I enjoyed numerous opportunities to reflect upon, discuss and view our boys in action and to consider the privilege of a boy’s school education in Australia. Watching our Pipes and Drums lead the Anzac Day Parade through Sydney, our Cadets officiate at the Service at the Cenotaph in Hyde Park, and our boys as they engaged in sport, community based service learning and the arts causes one to reflect upon the value of a first class boys school. Too often we can take these things for granted. A few years ago a three year research study was commissioned to examine ways of raising boys’ level of achievement in schools. The project was led by a team at Homerton College, University of Cambridge. As one would expect, a number of interesting insights emerged. For example, it was found that boys achieved higher grades if taught in single sex classes and teachers often felt that behaviour was better in single sex groups. Most teachers believed that boys and girls learn in different ways and should therefore be taught in different ways. It was identified that boys are keen to compete, and generally girls learn better by co-operating. Boys tend to be over optimistic about their academic potential, girls the reverse. Girls work harder, conform more readily and place a greater emphasis on neatness. Girls are much better at course work. Boys benefit from tight structures and precise goals. Girls have superior verbal abilities; boys have higher numerical abilities. Boys prefer different sorts of books in literature courses. The list of identifiable differences is as broad as it is deep. On the basis of this research, in the UK at least, increasing numbers of mixed government schools are now segregating the sexes for teaching purposes. It is an interesting finding, particularly when many single sex independent schools have become coeducational in recent years. Fundamental research into patterns of brain activity confirms what we all know: boys and girls learn in different ways. The College will begin three linked research projects with Sydney University, UNSW and Macquarie University this Term, in our professional quest to enhance boys’ learning and the quality of the learning experience. I look forward to sharing aspects of this research in the months and years ahead.

Message from the Head of Middle Years

The Scots College Gift of Education Fund

One of the most significant events in my time at Scots was listening to Captain Paul Moulds speak at a Middle Years Assembly about his work at the Salvation Army’s Youth Support Network – Oasis. This was in 2008 when the AFI award-winning documentary THE OASIS screened on the ABC, and The National Youth Commission Report on Youth...
Homelessness was released. The documentary focused on the homeless youth refuge and Oasis received an audience of 1.1 million viewers when it was screened on the ABC.

Since that event the College and Captain Moulds have continued to develop a strong relationship, built on a shared goal to help the homeless access quality education. The annual Scots and Cranbrook Rugby games now play for the Oasis Cup. In addition to this, many Scots boys and staff take part in the Bridge Run to raise funds to support the programs and services offered at Oasis.

Last term, Marcus Porter, Lachlan Ellison, Hugh Joyner, Will Reynolds, Hew Evans and Alex Boardman attended the official opening of THE OASIS Short Film Competition. The patron of the competition, Oscar winning actress Cate Blanchett, spoke about the importance of education in breaking down the barriers to help find a solution to the endemic problem of youth homelessness.

Also attending the event was Federal Minister for School Education, Early Childhood and Youth, Peter Garrett. The Minister officially launched the curriculum resource to complement THE OASIS documentary. The resource is aimed at raising awareness within schools regarding youth homelessness. Whilst at Oasis, the boys had the privilege of being taken on a guided tour of the campus by Gilly, one of the youth workers. This was an eye opening experience for the boys.

Those of us fortunate enough to hear Captain Moulds speak at the 2010 Preparatory School speech night or the Senior School speech day, were mesmerised by his inspirational message. He urged all the boys to consider wisely the choices that they would make in life. To make sure they respected the opportunities they had been given and to invest their energies in activities that would make a difference to the lives of others.

On Wednesday 15 June, the College will launch a new initiative, The Scots College Gift of Education Fund, to support the young men and women of Oasis. For more information regarding this event, please refer to the notices section of this newsletter.

Message from the Chaplain

The Herald Sun recently reported on an Austrian man who made a remarkable discovery. The man, who did not want to be identified, was digging in his back yard in order to expand a small pond. Suddenly, he unearthed a number of objects that turned out to be medieval jewellery – worth perhaps as much as 100,000 euros. The collection included more than 200 rings, broaches, belt buckles, silver plates and various other ornaments. Officials from Austria’s Department of National Antiquities said that the objects were about 650 years old and included pieces that were probably made for a royal court. Among them were brooches adored with pearls and coral, and a ring inlaid with semi-precious stones. Officials suggest that the collection may have been plunder from a conflict, or perhaps belonged to a trader on the busy route between Poland and Italy. Interestingly, after discovering the objects some four years ago, the man placed them in a box in his basement, and over time forgot about them. Some two years later, he rediscovered the objects while packing up his house following its sale. This time, he appreciated that he had found something truly special!

Sometimes, it pays to look at things with fresh eyes. Our perceptions can change over time. What seemed to be of little purpose or value when last encountered may now be just what is needed. Some people find that it is worth thinking again about the person of Jesus. We may have come to a decision long ago that there is little purpose or value in Christian thinking. We may have felt that the teachings of Jesus have little to say to us and that His life is of little relevance to us now. But sometimes fresh eyes are needed. Currently, the Year 12 students are studying a series of encounters – recorded in John’s Gospel – which Jesus had with a number of different people. For some of the Year 12 boys, the narratives are vaguely familiar and recall studies from their middle years. But to now approach these stories with fresh (and more mature) eyes can mean new insights and a different perspective. All of us should be open to new perspectives on seemingly familiar things, especially when it comes to some of the bigger questions of meaning and purpose. A willingness to re-visit things ‘consigned to the basement’ might reveal some precious treasures indeed.

Pipes and Drums

Welcome back to Term 2. The boys have been very busy during the holidays with performances at a number of events; three weddings, two community piping functions, the Rose Bay RSL Anzac Service, a dawn service at the Opera House, two performances at the Sydney Anzac March, the Memorial Church Service, the Anzac Tribute at the Royal Easter Show, an Anzac Service in the New Guinea Highlands and the opening of the Australian Championships for Little Athletics at Homebush.

I would like to thank the boys who gave up their time to perform at these parades. This demonstration of service was greatly appreciated by the wider community and it is rewarding to see so many dedicated boys in the band.

There are three more parades coming up this month. On the morning of Wednesday 18 May we will be supporting the Cadets at Martin Place. The boys are changing the guard at the Cenotaph. This will be the first time the College has had this honour since 1966. Also on 18 May, the boys will be taking part in the official opening of the Prep School with the Governor of NSW. Finally, we will be performing at the 60th Annual Parade of Remembrance on Sunday 29 May. All boys with Full Highland will be involved in this parade, including the boys from Glengarry. This is an event not to be missed.

Last Sunday, three bands took part in the Anzac Week Mini Bands Contest at the Liverpool Catholic Club. The boys came first, third and forth in juvenile and won Grade 3 against eight other bands. These are excellent results and I extend congratulations to the boys who took part.
Classes and practice sessions have started again for Term 2 and it is important that all boys attend, so as not to jeopardise their position in the band.

Band Master

Public Speaking

The prestigious 2011 Lawrence Campbell Oratory Award will be hosted by Barker College on the evening of Friday 13 May. The most accomplished public speaker in each GPS/CAS school competes for the award. Scots will be proudly represented this year by the Captain of Debating and Public Speaking and Senior Day Boy Prefect, Jackson Bursill.

Each speaker in the competition is given 15 minutes to prepare and deliver an 8 minute impromptu speech on a topic from a choice of three. The topics are set by the adjudicators on the evening.

The best speakers from the field exhibit brilliant rhetorical skill, making it a highly interesting and entertaining evening. Past winners include retired Chief Justice of the High Court of Australia, The Hon Murray Gleeson AM; Member for Wentworth, The Hon Malcolm Turnbull MP; radio host Adam Spencer; and The Chaser’s Charles Firth.

An invitation to attend Lawrence Campbell and support Jackson is extended to all interested students and parents. The address of Barker College is 91 Pacific Highway, Hornsby. The competition formalities will commence at 7:20pm.

Message from Glengarry

Term 2 at Glengarry is in full swing, with all boys thankfully getting back from holidays safe and sound. I experienced an image that will stay with me forever. As I made my way up the driveway of Glengarry to meet the boys, they had already disembarked the bus and when they saw me, began to yell out my name and greet me with great enthusiasm. I always know it is going to be an awesome Term when it begins like that.

This week will be extremely busy with the Frensham Dance on Friday night, Open Day preparations on Saturday and Open Day on Sunday. We are praying that the rain stays away for the weekend. A reminder that all parents, community members and extended family are welcome to attend Open Day. We know the day will be an absolute blast.

Mr Baz Jafari
Assistant Director, Glengarry

From the Maths Department

On Friday 1 April, the Year 7 Maths honours students from The Scots College attended Kambala School on a Maths excursion. We were all split into groups with another Scots boy and two Kambala girls. Our objective was to solve a series of troubling Maths questions. It was extremely competitive and quite challenging. I really enjoyed this opportunity and am sure everybody else did also. It was a great day, enjoyed by all. Session 2 will take place in Term 3.

From Indigenous Education

It is not often that we have one of our Indigenous boys mentioned on national television, but we did over the Easter break.

Pipe Major Kyol Blakeney played a prominent role in the Anzac Day march in Sydney. The Scots College Pipes and Drums band lead the flags, braving the rain as they did so. The ABC commentary singled out Kyol for discussion. Mention was made of the fact that he is the first (but most certainly not the last) Aboriginal to hold this prestigious post and that Kyol was also a master of the didgeridoo.

Kyol will be out again at the 60th Annual Parade of Remembrance, which will be his last appearance in the role. Kyol has been an excellent role model for the other Indigenous boys in so many ways and we hope to see many others follow in his footsteps by taking leadership roles at Scots in the future.

Mr Jonathan Samengo
Indigenous Education

From the Sport Department

This is the first full weekend round of winter sports trial fixtures against St Joseph's, Redlands, Barker and Oakhill. These games are important, as the grading of teams in each age group continues over the coming weeks leading up to the start of the GPS competition. Before selections are confirmed, coaches will keep looking for improvement in individuals, both in fixtures and at training. All details regarding these trials are on the sports fixtures list. It will take some weeks to finalise the teams, so please be patient with this process. Good luck to everyone. All boys are reminded to wear their correct Scots sports uniform to these trials.

All boys note, if you are returning to school on Saturdays or attending games during the afternoon to watch the senior grades at away venues, you must change into winter school uniform without exception.

Criteria for the Rehabilitation Program

A rehabilitation program has been designed specifically for those boys who through injury, cannot participate in sport for a prolonged period of time. In order for boys to qualify for this program, I would like to clarify below for parents and boys the following criteria:
Any student with an injury requiring a four week break from participation will need to submit a copy of their Medical Certificate to the Sports Secretary.

If injury requires less than four weeks recovery the student will stay with their team and assist as a manager.

The Sportsmaster will draw up Rehabilitations Rolls and advise a student’s usual Team Manager and the student concerned of their responsibilities while in rehab.

If an injury extends beyond the recommended lay off period, an updated Medical Certificate will be required.

Rehabilitation sessions run each week on. Tuesday and Thursday afternoons from 3:30pm to 5:00pm and Saturday morning from 8:00am to 9:30am.

Rolls are marked at the beginning of each session

Unexplained absences will be treated in the same manner as absence from any sport session.

Once a boy has completed his rehabilitation and is ready to return to sport, a note will be forwarded to the coach and or manager from the supervising staff.

Please note: Once approval has been given for a boy to attend this program, parents will need to forward a doctor’s certificate and any physiotherapist's or specialist's recommendations as to what their son can or cannot do. This is required in order to help in planning a specific program for rehabilitating the injury.

Weekly Sports Fixtures and game venues can be found on the College website

In order to notify parents and boys of weekly sports fixtures as soon as possible, a draft copy of sports fixtures will be posted on the College website: www.tsc.nsw.edu.au each Wednesday afternoon. Go to the ‘Learning at Scots’, then click on ‘Sports’ to view the ‘Sports fixtures for this weekend’. Sports fixtures can also be found on Pipeline under the ‘Sports’ section. Please note that final adjustments and known cancellations will be updated on the website by 4:00pm each Friday. You will also see the game venues and details regarding grounds. If further rain or inclement weather does continue on Friday night, it is suggested the wet weather line be used to check any further decisions on fixture cancellations by going to the wet weather section of the menu. For all fixtures, a decision will be made by 7:00am each Saturday morning and updated on the wet weather line. The wet weather line is 9008 0401.

Rugby Support Group Meeting

The next Rugby Support Group Meeting will be on Wednesday 11 May. As this is the last meeting before the Annual Lunch, we welcome all who would like to support Rugby to join us at 6:30pm in the Senior School Library.

Cross Country

Welcome to the 2011 season. A special welcome to boys and parents who are new to the sport this year.

Training is underway, and after the first time trial around Centennial Park, we are anticipating strong results in all age groups. We are aiming for another Premiership. The cumulative points system will operate this year with eight meetings counting – results at these meetings are added to determine the team winners in each age division. The GPS Championships will determine the individual champions. Boys have been issued with a schedule of meetings for the season and information about training and uniform.

The Cross Country coaches this year are Mr Brueckner, Mr Potter, Mr Boyd and external coach Mr Watson.

This Saturday's first meeting of the season is to be hosted by Waverley College in Centennial Park (opposite McKay Oval, near the bike track). The first race (Under 14) is at 10:00am, and boys must check in with their coaches by 9:30am. The mini-bus leaves the College for Centennial Park at 8:45am and returns at approximately 12 noon.

Parents, please make ensure that your son’s numbers are sewn onto the front and back of his Cross Country singlet. These are used to record the runner’s place at the end of the race. Places will only be recorded if numbers are correctly attached.

Enjoy the season.

Mr Dennis Morgan
MIC Cross Country

Football

The 2011 Football season has commenced in earnest at Scots, with pre-season training commencing in Term 1 and a Senior Squad Tour completed during the Easter long weekend. The tour saw 28 of the College’s best footballers travel to the Gold Coast for five days of intensive training and match play, hosted at The Southport School. The tour was a great success, with both the coaching staff and players coming away from the five day event feeling more confident about the upcoming GPS season. Thanks must go to Mr Tony Canning and Mr David Oswell for investing their time to make sure this experience was possible. Also, thanks are to be extended to Mr Franco Lagudi for his tremendous support of Football at Scots.

One of the highlights of the tour was the tremendous solidarity shown by the footballers when they decided to attend the Dawn Service on Anzac Day, held at the Gold Coast Anzac Memorial. Dressed in full College uniform, the boys proudly joined in the march from Surfers Paradise RSL Club, to the beach, where they became a respectful part of a very large crowd gathered for the service. Members of the public offered several pleasing words to the boys for making the effort and for being interested in ensuring the sacrifices made by our military men and women are never forgotten. This was a real honour to see our Scots Football boys recognise such a fundamentally important occasion as this, and I trust the boys will carry this experience with them throughout the season and the rest of their lives.

Some of the images captured during the tour will be visible on the College's new Football website. It is intended that this site will be used as the first port of call for parents and boys each week to be updated with all news, team lists and other interesting developments in Scots Football. The first edition of the new site is available to be viewed by going to www.football.tsc.nsw.edu.au.

A full round of trial matches are scheduled for this Saturday, playing the Joey’s and Redlands teams. Please ensure all of our boys are properly kitted out with boots, shin pads and Scots Football uniform for these matches.

I am looking forward to seeing you during the season.

Mr Paul Haras

Women's Association

It is with much pleasure I announce the launch of the Women's Association web site. You will find it on Pipeline under the heading of Associations. It is our intention that this site will be your first port of call for all things related to your son’s year level of a fellowship nature. It has information on the Blackwatch Cafe and the Mansion Road Tuckshop, the clothing pool and Scots goods. In addition, you will find details of your son’s class and year representatives who are great sources of information and who are busy organising social events for your year. This site will also enable us to reduce the number of emails you receive regarding events as invitations, and dates will be displayed on a permanent basis, so you are encouraged to opt in and view the individual year pages on a regular basis for this information. I would like to thank Paul Lister and Deion Moller from the Roaring Lions who have helped us establish this site.

The new Executive of the Women’s Association (whose details are on the web site) met for the first time last week and we had the pleasure of Dr Ian Lambert and Andrew Watt speaking to the group about how important the Women’s Association is for instilling a sense of community and fundraising within Scots. Our aim this year is to make you feel part of the Scots community by inviting you to attend a number of events either at a year, class or whole school level, by volunteering at the tuck-shop or clothing pool, or simply by keeping you in touch via the web page.

We are still looking to fill a couple of positions on the Executive including Treasurer and Assistant Treasurer (both of whom need bookkeeping experience as a minimum) and the Lion Editorial/Media and Communications role. I would be more than happy to speak to anyone who would like to undertake these important roles within the Women’s Association.

The Executive and I are looking forward to a great year of continuing to build the Scot’s community through our areas of involvement. If anyone would like to contact me my details are below, and the entire Executive’s details are on the new web site:
